Ajit Pai, Chairman
Federal Communications Commission

Please consider the appointment of John Fogle to the Intergovernmental Advisory Committee (IAC) of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

John brought his experience from the private sector to our City Council in Loveland, Colorado eight years ago. He leveraged that experience to serve as the driving force to lead a community coalition to bring Fiber Broadband to Loveland. He has the technical expertise and the political instinct to guide complicated concepts into reality. He worked diligently to bring diverse groups of opinions to the table in order to arrive at a workable solution.

He has also played an important role at NCL, as a member of the Information, Technology and Communications Advisory Committee for almost 6 years. His current work, helping City staff modify codes to usher in 5G, will serve Loveland for many years to come.

John's dedication to Loveland has earned my support, and I believe he will be a valued member of the IAC Committee.
